

David Wick's Bio

David is the Global Relations Director for Sigma International Corp, and the award-winning publisher at Silver Light Publications. He has over 30 years of management, consulting, and organizational development experience. He has held important positions for over 20 years with Sun Microsystems, Stanford University, Levi Strauss and the European Foundation for Management Development. At Sun Microsystems David received a company wide academy award, for his first-of-its-kind in the Silicon Valley, Mini-MBA Program. He has designed extensive international training programs; and has received accolades in both the business and peace building arenas. He has been responsible for corporate programs in Spain, Hong Kong, France, India, Belgium and Canada.

In 1983 David helped launch Pathways To Peace, where he co-founded the visionary project: Peace Within Organizations. In 1995, he began facilitating the five-year, international "PeaceBuilding Into the 21st Century Inquiry", and currently heads up Phase III of PeaceBuilding Through Business, which has become a core value of Sigma International in China. David has assisted leading edge initiatives such as the Thought Leader Gatherings (Silicon Valley, CA), The Presidio Dialogues (San Francisco, CA), and co-created The Rogue Valley Wisdom Councils, "...bringing new life to democracy" in Southern Oregon. He resides in Ashland, Oregon and is blazing a pioneering trail in Oregon's and other states' globalization expansion and proactive trade interest with China.
