

Irene Kai is an internationally known author, publisher, artist, speaker, and business woman. Her book The Golden Mountain: Beyond the American Dream received three US national awards, and is used as a model textbook in universities for students who learn English as a Second Language and for Women's Studies. Her book is highly respected as a cultural bridge between China and the US. She has been a frequent guest on radio and TV, and is a keynote speaker and lecturer for US-China cultural exchange topics in highly esteemed national committees and organizations. Irene is the President of Silver Light Publications, Inc.

Irene received a Masters of Design from the Royal College of Art in London and was an Instructor of Design at Penn State University in Pennsylvania. As a very successful African Art Importer, she traveled extensively to countries in Africa, the Middle East, Europe and Hong Kong and is fluent in Chinese. Irene is a long time supporter of peace initiatives, and her inspiring Peace Dove image hangs in the United Nations building in New York and is used around the world on the International Day of Peace, and as the logo for the Cultural of Peace Initiative. Irene is a director at Pathways To Peace and is engaged in the PeaceBuilding Through Business Initiative. She is currently filming a documentary on the Native Americans in Oregon who are leading changes for the planetary destiny of their children and their tribes. Irene is also actively establishing rapport for Oregon-China cultural exchange interests and business horizons.